PEACE OF ASIA MENACED

Bolsheviki Plan Revolutions In China India and Persia

London, Jan. 22.—The Russian Bolshevik Government for a long time has been organizing an extensive propaganda for revolutions in China, India and Persia, and is now ready, as soon as the opportunity offers, to send agents with large sums of money to stir up trouble throughout Asia, according to reliable advices received here.

A great obstacle facing the revolutionary plans of the Bolsheviki is the existence of the army of the Omsk Government, which at present effectively bars the way to Asia by way of the Ural front. If, however, it is pointed out, Admiral Kolchak's army becomes weakened and were to disintegrate through lack of support and encouragement the Bolshevik plans could very seriously threaten the peace of Asia.

The most recent information received from British quarters shows that Bolshevism is spreading the Ukraine. The new Ukraine directorate, with headquarters at Kiev, is a weak organization without any decided policy. Its attitude toward the Bolsheviki is most uncertain and there is a current opinion here that the directorate favors an agreement with the Bolsheviki. Although General Petura's forces are nominally fighting the Bolsheviki in the Eastern Ukraine there are many Bolsheviki in his army. Meanwhile the Bolsheviki are showing great activity in Kiev and the surrounding districts, many well-known Bolsheviki having returned there.

LONDON ENGINEERS OUT

Tie Up Industry When Employers Insist on 47 Hours Work Weekly

London, Jan. 22.—A strike which would close all the engineering works and nearly every class of public service in London is threatened. Already 15,000 workers are out, and as the men and the employers broke off negotiations for a settlement during the day, it is expected that at least 250,000 men engaged in the engineering trade will cease to work before the end of the week.

The trouble arises from operation of the 47-hour week, which has just been granted. When the new hours come into operation, employers decided that 47 hours meant 47 hours work and withdrew certain privileges that had been previously allowed, such as ten minutes for refreshments in the morning, and a few minutes of the employers' time for men engaged in rough work to wash their hands.

Fun will reign supreme at the Grand temorrow. Charlie Chaplin will be the chief fun-maker and his vehicle will be a Mack Sennett production entitled "The Hula-Hula Dance." This will prove one of the biggest comedy bills ever booked at one performance.

YOUTH WAS MARK FOR FLU

Of 5999 Virginia Victims in October 1171 Were Between 25 and 30—Mortality Among Children

Richmond, Va., Jan. 22.—It would appear from reports received by the State Board of Health through the Bureau of Vital statistics that the Spanish influenza, during the month of October, 1918, was most fatal to persons between the ages of 25 and 30. At any rate, 1171 of the 5,999 Virginians who died of the disease in October were between the ages mentioned, while 888 were white and 283 colored. Those between the ages of 20 and 25 fared but little better as 1,041 of them died from influenza or complications incident to the dreaded malady. Of these victims 876 were white and 265 colored.

The total of whites who went down in the epidemic was 4,139 and of blacks 1,822, which shows that the mortality among negroes was proportionately about the same as that among the whites, though the colored population is considerably smaller.

Obviously the "flu" does not hesitate to invade the nursery for the statistics show the following deaths among children: Under 1 year, total 268; between 1 and 2 years, 251; between 2 and 5, 377; between 5 and 10, 277; between 10 and 15, 194; between 15 and 20, 508.

Of those between 50 and 55, only 78 died, while of those between 55 and 65 there were only 88 victims. The total for those over 65 was but 68.

Between 600 and 1,000 additional deaths from influenza in October 1918, will probably be reported later on, as many physicians have been too busy to make returns to the local registrars.

SHELL-CASING CLOTH

Millions of Yards Will be Made Into Stylish Gowns in England

London, Jan. 22.—From the casing of explosive charges to the adornment of fair women is the destination of millions of yards of yarn which were destined for the making of shell cloth for the big shells. In the coming season many women will don shell cloth costumes, coat frocks and skirts which but for the armistice would have ended in the flash of high explosives.

The surplus yarn, which is similar to that from which women's costume cloths were made before the war is sufficient to manufacture 2,400,000 yards of serge, It will be turned into cloth by the end of February, and the product be made into costumes which will be on sale in the early summer at standard prices.

The colors of the serge will be black, but, brown and sage.

PLAN HOME GARDENS

Agricultural Committee of Chamber of Commerce Will Arrange To Offer Prizes in Campaign

The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting tomorrow night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at which time plans will be mapped out for spring gardens.

With the idea of encouraging the work among all citizens prizes will be offered by this committee to the persons having the best gardens and also to those raising the greatest amount of vegetables in small gardens. This was done during the progress of the war and it helped things considerably. In many a home it resulted in the saving of many dollars.

The conservation of food just now is almost as essential as during the period of the war as all the food that can be obtained will be needed to feed the starving nations of Europe.

The directors of this committee are John W. May and S. C. Cropley.

THESE HUNS PUT WISE

Russian Railroad Men See Triumphal Entry of Poilus Into Chateau Salins.

There is one group of Prussians that knows Germany is whipped, though reports persist that the majority do not realize it yet.

Two big machines full of sleek Prussian railroad men pulled up at the public square in Chateau-Salins, near Metz, at the same time the French were making a triumphant entry into the city from the south.

A rugged old poilu halted the Prussians and covered them. They demanded to pass immediately, since they were on their way to Nancy to turn over the Alsatian railroads to French railroad men. The poilu ordered them to halt and reported them to his lieutenant, who in turn reported higher. Finally it reached the general in command.

He made his decision at once "Give them a place where they can see well, and make them wait until the procession has passed. It will be a good sight for Prussian eyes."

The two cars full of Prussians were backed in the square facing the passing French warriors, who marched with victory in their movements to the time of martial French music. All the while the natives of Chateau-Salins were wild in their enthusiasm over the poilus.

The Prussians watched without wincing, now and then commenting among themselves, but never to an outsider. As the old poilu put it. 'No one knows just what they thought, but they at least know who won the war."

INGOMAR—"Quicksand"

Has a husband any right to expect his wife to stick to him under any circumstances? Isn't there a limit at which she is justified in stopping? Suppose the husband goes to jail; the evidence is clearly against him. Would he be playing square if he allowed his wife to sing in a disreputable cabaret for him? To associate with a motley crowd? To make herself the subject of insiduous gossip? You may answer off-hand "Yes" or "No", but you can't say definitely until you know the full circumstances. Dorothy Dalton in "Quicksand" at the Ingomar tonight answers the question.

NO ACCIDENT WEEK

Novel Scheme Being Tried Out—230,000 Have Signed Pledge to go Seven Days, if Possible, Without Sustaining Personal Injury.

Approximately two hundred and thirty thousand railroad men south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers have signed a pledge to go seven days, if possible, without sustaining a personal injury.

The week beginning January 19 has been designated by the Regional Director of Railroads as "No Accident Week" and according to a statement issued today by C. M. Anderson, Regional Supervisor of Safety, Southern Region, the lines under his jurisdiction approximately total thirty six thousand miles with two hundred and thirty thousand men and women on the payrolls.

Back of this army of industrial workers, who have decided to eliminate personal injuries are three hundred and fifty safety committees, composed of both officers and employees working under regulations prescribed by the United States Railroad Administration.

According to the employees themselves, who are taking a keen interest in it, says Mr. Anderson, "No Accident Week" is bound to give a big impetus to their safety work. The test is something concrete—something which they may attain definitely as a result of their efforts. This is causing considerable rivalry among the roads and the men say that the psychological effect upon the rank and file of employees of being thus placed upon their mettle, together with the knowledge that even for a week, they may prevent actual suffering or grief to any number of employees or their families makes "No Accident Week" well worth while.

Daily reports will be compiled by telegraph of progress made on every railroad in the south so that every employe will be advised as to what is being accomplished.

Thus far no accidents have been reported here.

TO SPEED RETURN

Navy Expects to Have all But 3,000 Back by February 15.

London, Jan. 22.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, after a conference with Admiral Sims on plans for the demobilization of the American navy in European waters, said last night he was confident that with the exception of about 3,000 men the American navy would be out of Europe not later than February 15.

When the armistice was signed there were 70,000 American sailors in European waters. Several thousands are at aviation stations in France and Ireland, but are being sent home as rapidly as possible.

One of the present difficulties in the way of complete demobilization is the uncertainty as to just how many German passenger ships will be allotted to carry American soldiers home and as to when the ships will be delivered. These ships will be manned and operated by the American navy and their advent into troop service will require the services of men at the ports from which they will sail.

The navy is having little difficulty in disposing of the vast amount of material and supplies in France, England and Ireland. The material in England and Ireland is being sold largely to the British Admiralty and the British air department. The little that the British Government organizations are not taking is of small value and is being sold at auction. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is here with full authority to clear up demobilization details, and will remain until February 1.

OHLERT TRIAL WILL AGAIN BE POSTPONED.

The trial of William H. Oehlert, charged with shooting and killing Linwood Kidwell, which was scheduled to have begun next Monday, will again be postponed until Commonwealth's Attorney Howard W. Smith who is ill with influenza entirely recovers.

The witnesses and the jurymen summoned it is announced need not appear on Monday.

The case will be called and a date for the trial probably decided upon on that day.

THE "SICK MAN" IS DEAD

It was Czar Alexander I who gave Turkey the name of the "sick man of Europe." He intimated that it was time to anticipate his demise and administer on his estate. And it was. But the suggestion alarmed England and France. For Russia was the only Great Power whose premises were adjacent to those of the "sick man," and when the distribution began Russia could get its hands upon much of the assests of the decedent before other nations, which intended to have some of the inheritance, but were not so well placed, could get the souvenirs upon which their eyes were fixed.

Russia was already so huge that it was an object of apprehension to Western Europe. If it got Constantinople, what was there left of anything like equal value for England and France? And what was even more serious, if Russia got Constantinople it became a Mediterranean Power. England and France did not care to see Russia in the Mediterranean. Could they hold their own against this monstrous Empire of the North?

For more than a century the only thing that has kept the Ottoman Empire in existence has been Western Europe's fear of Russia. England, France and Sardinia defended Turkey in the Crimean War in order to keep Russia out of the Mediterranean. One of the conditions of peace imposed on Russia was that it should not even have a fleet on the Black Sea. That obligation Russia threw off when France collapsed under the blows of Germany in 1870.

Years afterward Lord Salisbury admitted that England had "put its money on the wrong horse," but he supported Lord Beaconsfield in staying the Russian arms outside of Constantinople, and revising the Treaty of San Stepnano at Berlin in 1878. The whole purpose of this was to keep the Turkish Government in existence as a barrier against Russia.

Well, Russia has collapsed, as is suggested by the Philadelphia Record, "and there is no longer the least excuse for propping up the Turkish cadaver to block Russia's way to the Mediterranean. Turkey is no longer useful to any European nation. It has been dead so long that it is intolerably offensive, and Mr. Morgenthau's demand that it should be buried ought to be promptly agreed to by the peace conference."

WAR ON THE SCARLET WOMAN.

Five years ago there were three "segregated districts" in Chicago in which the most beastly of all trades was prosecuted unchecked by the human vultures which nested there. Through the work of a committee these houses have been reduced by at least seventy per cent. The committee has waged relentless war against all keepers of disorderly houses, their owners and agents, and against all police and political grafters who have made wicked gains through granting them proteciton in return for a share in the profits. This method stirred up bitter antagonism, but in spite of all opposition, 1,400 disorderly houses have been closed. The names of the owners of these places, after good and sufficient warning, were published in the newspapers.

Old people still among us remember the sudden transition which took place in Alexandria in 1861 after the federal troops had captured our city. The number of disorderly resorts was multiplied an hundred fold. There were virtually no "segregated districts," but the infection permeated every section. While the sale of liquor was forbidden, but feeble measures were enacted by the military governors to eliminate certain greater evils. Strange women were to be seen everywhere, and most of them of the most aggressive class.

After the United States became engaged in war with Germany the government took precautionary measures from the first, and disorderly persons have been forced to keep in the shade for fear of the military and civil police. Under the present laws of the state of Virginia the proprietresses, inmates and visitors to evil resorts after having been arrested are turned over to the health officer. This procedure requires considerable time, as reports are to be awaited and in the meantime the suspects are kept in jail.

These drastic measures have worked good in all cities in the commonwealth.

CAN DEMOCRACY SAVE THE WORLD?

President Wilson said: "What we demand in this war is that the world be made fit and safe to live in."

Rev. Arthur J. Brown, D. D., L. L. D., Secretary of the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church, in commenting upon the President's words, says "We say that we wish to make the world safe for democracy. But what kind of democracy? Will a lawless, godless democracy make the world safe? I tell you that selfish and cruel men will fight under any kind of government. There is no political alchemy by which you can get golden conduct out of leaden motives. Of what avail for our sons to die on the battlefield if the world whose freedom they secure is a wicked world.

"The world has taught us anew that while knowledge is power, it depends upon the principle which regulates the power whether it is for good or for evil. Can science, philosophy, secular education save the world? Germany had made greater achievements in these directions than any other people, yet we have seen Germany use all her intellectual ability to devastate the world."

GERMAN THEOLOGY

Robert McWatty Russell, D. D., L. L. D., (Professor of Bible Doctrine and Homiletics, Moody Bible Institute), says a marked tendency of modern times is to eliminate the supernatural from religion. It must be admitted that elimination is often desirable as in the case of the horseless carriage, the fireless cooker, the iceless refrigerator, the spineless cactus; and we are hoping for the odorless onion and the boneless shad, even as we have secured a Kaiserless world.

Elimination, however, can mark degeneracy, and this is true when there is tendency toward the loveless marriage, the childless home, and especially a Christless Christianity.

Dean James M. Gray affirms that while German militarism is dead, the German theology that made it possible still lives.

ESTHONIANS TAKE NARVA

Crushing Defeat Inflicted Upon Bolshevik Troops.

London, Jan. 22.—A notable success has been won against the Bolsheviki by Esthonion troops operating to the northeast of Lake Peipus, according to an Esthonion official statement received by wireless at Stockholm yesterday and transmitted here. They have taken the town of Narva on th Reval-Petrograd railway line, together with a large number of prisoners.

Finnish troop co-operated with the Esthonions, the statement says. A quantity of booty fell into the hands of the victorious forces, including guns, provisions and armored trains. The prisoners included division and regimental staffs.

Leon Trotzky the Bolshevik War Minister, it is stated, was present in Narva during the fighting and fled after the Bolshevik defeat.

PARSONS THIEVES

Elopements to Elkton, Md., Yielded One $6,000 in Year, It is Said

Elkton, Md., Jan. 22.—"I can't tell you nothin' about elopin' couples," said the proprietor of Elkton's chief hotel, cafe and news center. "Not that we don't have 'em—why, they say that just this last year one of the parsons, and not the one they're pickin' on, either, cleared $6,000 on lovesick young fools. Not that they don't have 'em here, as I was sayin' but after the parsons git through with 'em they don't have no money left for the hotels."

Whatever the actual situation may be here—the Gretna Green of at least three neighboring States—the Rev. Dr. John McElmoyle, of the Elkton Presbyterian Church, has been asked by the Newcastle Presbytery to resign his pastorship from that church claiming that his activities in marrying runaway couples has brought the church into ridicule.

During the last year about 3,500 marriage licenses have been issued by the County Clerk of the Court, and Dr. McElmoyle has officiated at about 1,000 of these marriages.

WILL FEAST ON OSTRICH

Firemen Will Serve 250-Pound Bird At Victory Dinner

Sunbury, Pa., Jan. 22.—An African ostrich that was to be one of 50 that would produce untold millions of wealth for stockholders in the defunct African Ostrich Farm and Feather Company, of Bloomsburg, has been bought by the Americus Hose Company, a local fire-fighting organization, for a paltry $25. It was the last bird on the farm, the three others left having been bought by M. S. Hershey, the chocolate manufacturer, for show purposes on his estate.

Inasmuch as the local bird weighs close to 250 pounds, it will be seen that it was cheaper than turkey at 50 cents a pound. It is the intention of the firemen to fatten the ostrich and serve it at a victory banquet on Washington's Birthday.

UNITED STATES OF GERMANY

Berlin and Its Immediate Environs Will be Split up in Future

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Berlin and its immediate environs hereafter will be a separate republic, independent of Prussia, of which it has been hitherto the capital. The Rhineland (hitherto Rhenish Prussia) will be joined to German Austria, and the two will form one of the eight republics that will constitute the new German Federation, virtually a "United States of Germany," the whole to be a federated republic.

An official statement to this effect was issued last night. Having received the assurances at the polls of the confidence of nearly 50 per cent of the German voters, the Ebert government has set itself to the task of framing the Fatherland's future.

A president will be elected for a term of seven years. He will appoint chancellors (equivalent to the premiers of the Western democracies) and ministers.

The Reichstag will be composed of a "chamber of the people" and a "chamber of state."

The eight separate republics within the federation will be:

Berlin, Prussia, Silesia, Brandenburg, Lower Saxony, Westphalia, Hesse, Rhineland and German Austria combined."

C., Jan. 22.—Reports from 21 cities showing more than 25,000 men unemployed were submitted to the House Immigration Committee yesterday by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, in support of his contention that "there will be bread lines in every industrial centre before May 1." Mr. Morrison appeared in support of legislation to restrict immigration.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The House Pensions Committee yesterday favorably reported the bill to give a $5,000 annual pension to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. A letter from Secretary Lane, endorsing the bill with a tribute to Roosevelt, was incorporated in the report.

The grand jury yesterday in Mineola, L. I., refused to indict Mrs. Marie Augustine Lebaudy for the murder of her husband, Jacques Lebaudy, self styled "Emperor of the Sahara.' After a detailed examination of the facts the jury reported to the court that under the evidence it could not indict. The court signed an immediate order for the relense of the woman.

Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Portugal, according to reports reaching Madrid. Rumors were being circulated of possible intervention by Spain. Warships have been sent to Oporto, the stronghold of the Monarchists. The conspiracy to restore the monarchy apparently was still growing yesterday, despite assurances by the government that it had been suppressed. "The government is master of the situation," said an official statement.

The Washington Railway and Electric Company must answer the demands for official recognition of the union and continuation of the present wage by contract before 6 o'clock tomorrow night, according to the terms of an ultimatum presented yesterday morning to President W. F. Ham, president of the company, by a committee of employes, members of Division No. 689, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America.

The contents of forty warehouses and barracks in the Coblenz region, crammed with millions of dollars' worth of war materials abandoned by the Germans, will revert to the United States by default. The supplies were not inventoried by the enemy and cannot be turned over to the allied pool under the armistice terms. One hundred men of the salvage department yesterday completed a month's work in checking up these materials.

Foul play is suspected in the death of Walter P. Gafford, young criminal lawyer of Wilmington, N. C., who was found in his office early yesterday, with the upper portion of his body burned beyond recognition from the flame from a small gas stove. A hat with clotted blood inside, gave indications of his having been struck with a blunt instrument, was found in the office. It was said that it did not belong to Gafford.

With 30,000 shipyard workers on strike in Seattle, Wash., and 13,000 in Tacoma, the greatest industrial battle in the history of the Northwest began yesterday Eight thousand carpenters in Seatle are thrown out of work, although they opposed the strike. While the streets were congested when the strikers walked out, no disturbances of any kind occurred. The srike order was issued by the Metal Trades Council, following refusal of the employers to accept the new basic wage scale of $8 for machinists, $7 for skilled labor and $6 for unskilled labor for an eight-hour day.

President Wilson will probably leave Brest, France, for the United States on the steamship George Washington about February 15. This is the understanding of officers of the transport which arrived in New York yesterday and which will return within a few days, so "that the vessel may be at the disposal of the President by February 15."

VIRGINIA NEWS

The wooden ship Luray was successfully launched yesterday morning at the plant of the Hampton Shipbuilding and Marine Railway Company at Newport News. The ship is one of several the company is building for the Emergency Fleet Corporation. She is 284 feet long.

What is believed to have been the largest hog on record was killed a few days ago near Chatham. The animal weighed, dressed, 782 pounds. A conservative estimate of the blood and offal of the animal is 150 pounds, making it 932 pounds in weight. It belonged to J. R. Cocke.

The British battleship Warrior, which became entangled in the discarded submarine net at the Virginia Capes last week, has been towed to Sewell's Point, and probably will go to Portsmouth Navy Yard for repairs. The net could not be removed at the capes on account of bad weather. Part of it was cut away and the ship towed into harbor so workmen might more easily get to it.

Petersburg yesterday went over the top by $1,000 in its subscriptions to the Armenian and Syrian relief fund Petersburg's quota was $20,000 of the $300,000 allotted to Virginia. The subscriptions were made at a largely attended meeting yesterday morning at the Academy of Music, which was addressed by Billy Sunday, who, with "Ma" Sunday, motored over from Richmond to boost the drive.

Christine Ford, missing for some time from her Lynchburg home, and recently thought to have been murdered and her body consigned to the James River near Richmond, reached Norfolk Monday from New York. Recently the body of an unknown young woman was found in the James River near Richmond, and one of the theories advanced was that it was the body of Christine Ford, of Lynchburg. Miss oFrd, in custody, of an officer, left for Lynchburg Monday night.

HUNS WOULD JOIN U. S. ARMY

Thousands Also Planning to Come to America in Quest of Export Trade

Berlin, Jan. 22.—The mental attitude of the Germans toward peace is just as strange as their attitude towards the war. There are now hundreds of thousands in Berlin alone planning to go to England and America as soon as the boats resume service.

Many seek to go as commission agents to get into direct touch with firms having raw materials for sale to Germany.

Another naive class assumes that everything is forgotten; One German said:

"Send to Paris to get me a raincoat like yours."

The most amazing class is that of the officers. Almost directly after the Rhine districts had been occupied by the Americans, the latter were overwhelmed with requests from former German officers to allow them to join the American army. Then they tried the Japanese, English and French armies. Their impudent request was turned down of course. One allied mission got so many requests that it printed special forms of refusal which were sent out by the hundreds.

QUESTION OF INDEMNITIES

Most Difficult Question Peace Conference Will Have to Consider

Paris, Jan. 22,—Already some of the great financiers of America and Britain now in Paris are considering the amount of the indemnity which Germany is capable of paying.

This is bound to prove one of the most difficult questions to come before the Peace Conference for decision. There is absolute unanimity on the principle that Germany should be assessed to the full limit of her capacity for the wanton destruction which rightfully can be charged against her.

But there is a wide difference of opinion as to the amount which can be expected without draining the economic life blood of the nation and making it not only impossible to recuperate within a reasonable period of time, but making it impossible to continue payments at all.

The difference in the unofficial estimates of the allied nations and the estimates of American financiers is so wide that it is more than probable the conference will be forced to select an interallied financial commission to thoroughly consider the bills against Germany which the allies have to present, and then considering the extent to which the present and prospective resources of Germany are capable of standing the strain of these demands.

The estimated bills of the various allies follow: France, $68,000,000,000; Britain, $24,000,000,000; Italy, 20,000,000,000; Belgium, $10,000,000,000; Serbia, $5,000,000,000; Rumania, $5,000,000,000.

The total maximum claims approximate $150,000,000,000. That does not include America's claims, if she makes any.

A Splendid Tonic

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

EX-SOLDIER MISSING

Typewrite Letter to Victim's Wife Ere They Chuck Him in River

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 22.—After dragging the Chattahooche River, near here, several hours yesterday for the body of James A. Sutton, of Seattle, Wash., who was recently discharged from the army at Camp Gordon, and carefully examining two letters received by the man's wife, Atlanta detectives expressed the opinion that the man had abandoned his bride of a few months.

Sutton, in a letter that covered ten pages, told his wife that he was about to be murdered on the banks of the river by three men and that his body would be found by dragging the river. A second letter received by Mrs. Sutton, written on a typewriter purported to be from the three men who had Sutton in their power and apparently confirmed the ex-soldier's statement that the man was about to die. No explanation was given why a typewriter was in their possession on the river bank.

"I want you to lead a life that will lead you through those pearly gates," read the letter to Mrs. Sutton. "Darling, we will meet in heaven and know one another there. One of these men says he will take all my things to you and see you get them, as it is the last thing I ever asked in this world."

CLUE IN RIVER MYSTERY

Richmond, Va., Jan. 22.—Prospects of the so-called James river mystery being cleared up were exceedingly bright yesterday evening. Henrico county authorities admitted. They were working on the theory that the mystery woman, whose body has lain in Nelsen's morgue since December 30, was the wife of an army officer attached to the Medical Corps and that he murdered her and then utilized the wire found about her waist in fastening the body to tree roots along the river bank near the Country Club. The understanding was that clothes removed from the body have been identified as hers, but it was understood that the body had only been partly identified. It was reported that a murder warrant was out for the suspect and this was not denied.

So far as could be ascertained the officer was supposed to have left here about December 15, after receiving his discharge. Both he and his wife were understood to be from a distant State, and it was thought that they had been married only a few months.

ACCUSED OF KILLING SOLDIER

Escaped Prisoner From Anniston Captured in New Jersey

Anniston, Ala., Jan. 22.—Pasquale Devite, the second member of the quartet of soldier-prisoners held responsible for the death of Private Orlin Carey, of Salisbury, of Company I, One Hundred and Fifteenth Infantry, killed last spring at Camp McClellan while guarding John Musa, has surrendered to the military authorities at Camp Merritt.

The second member of the quartet, believed to be guilty of the murder of the young Baltimore soldier, is probably en route to Camp McClellan from the New Jersey camp, and within a reasonable time after his arrival here he and John Musa, who was captured last fall in Newark, will be tried before a general courtmartial.

Carey, who was just a little more than 18 years old, had been detailed to guard the four men and when he failed to return to the guard house with his prisoners a search was instituted. Carey was found in a dying condition near an unused building on the reservation with his skull crushed by a heavy blow, and he died within a few hours.

WILL NOT NOMINATE

The Republican committee of the Sixth District of Virginia, in session at Roanoke, announced yesterday that the matter of naming a candidate to oppose James P. Woods, Democratic congressional nominee to succeed Carter Glass, will be held in abeyance for the present. Republicans openly express doubt as to the feasibility of entering the contest. The special election is to be held February 15.

BOOTLEG WHISKY SOARS

W. Va. Prices Reach $9 A Pint Following Supreme Court Ruling

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 22.—The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States banning the transportation of even a quart of whisky into West Virginia, as an interpretation of the Reed amendment, has sent the price of "bootleg liquor" from $5 to $9 a pint in Charleston.

This assertion is made by Chief of Police William A. Sparks, of this city, who also states that the decision has failed to check the flow of rum into the city, Chief Sparks says the same high cost of liquor apears to prevail in all parts of the State, except at points close to "wet" territory.
